ATTACKING SERBIAN ARMY REPULSED AND DEMORALIZED.
The Main Army Retreats Into Servian Territory—Elections in England Yesterday—Honor of France Involved—King Alfonso Seriously Ill.

SERBIA, Nov. 24.—The Servians attacked the Bulgarian army at 4 o'clock this afternoon. They were repulsed and retired in disorder, crossing the frontier at 5 o'clock, near Tzaribrod. The Servians are now retreating from their position at Tru. The Bulgarians have advanced to the frontier. Widdin is being shelled by the Servians, but has not been set on fire. The Bulgarian commandant has prohibited the passing of eight Austrian troops.

BELOGRADE, Nov. 24.—The Servians are continuing their retreat, and the main army is now in Servian territory. The troops are retreating in the direction of the capture of Tzaribrod by the Bulgarians, who have fallen back without offering any resistance. The victorious Prince Alexander of the Bulgarians have occupied all the positions recently held by the Servians in Bulgaria, and are advancing to the frontier. The first class of the landrains has been summoned for active duty. After completing the training of his army King Milan will lead a final attack on the Bulgarians.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A dispatch from Vienna says that the British ambassador in England have refused the porte to dispatch a note to Servia to-morrow concerning King Milan to stay. The Journal de St. Petersburg to-day says: "Upon Russia's initiative the powers are promoting a settlement of the Balkan question. The Balkans, but hopes are entertained that Servia and Bulgaria, although incapable of settling the Balkan question, will be able to come to a settlement. It is probable that the powers will be able to settle the Balkan question, and there is promise of a further fall of snow."

BELOGRADE, Nov. 24.—King Milan has decided to abdicate the throne. If successful, the throne will be inherited by his son, Prince Alexander. The king is now in the hands of the Russian army, and is being treated with great respect.

CONTEST FOR AN OFFICE.

PORT WARDEN LEYACRAFT DECLINES TO YIELD TO MR. STERLING.
He Doesn't Recognize Sterling's Right, and Will Not Surrender Office Unless Beaten in the Courts—Sterling Will Take Legal Measures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Port Warden Sterling called this morning at the office of the warden, on Front street, this city. There were four port wardens in the office sitting at their respective desks, and among the number was Wm. Leyacraft, whom Mr. Sterling is to succeed. Sterling walked into the office with bold step, and was recognized by one of the gentlemen present, who called him by name. Addressing Mr. Leyacraft, Mr. Sterling said: "I am here to take my place in this office."

"I don't recognize your right to this place," said Mr. Leyacraft excitedly; "and I don't give up this office to you. I do not recognize your right to this place, and I shall have it." The place is mine, and I shall have it," said Mr. Sterling. "Who is the secretary of this office?" "The secretary of this office," said Mr. Leyacraft, "is the secretary of this office, and I shall have it."
